

90-Minute Collaboration Workshop

Are you

- Trying to get outcomes across organisational silos?
- Wanting to create better outcomes for your customers and community?
- Wondering how to inspire your team to work differently?

Our 90-minute Collaboration Workshop is designed to quickly and effectively understand team challenges and generate ideas on how you can overcome them.

Our deep industry knowledge and extensive experience working with water industry professionals allows us to understand your issues and get to the heart of the matter quickly.

This workshop would be great for:

- IWM projects
- strategies and plans
- project or program development
- organisational changes or restructures.

This workshop is conducted by Foundry Managing Director Lindsey Brown. Lindsey is an experienced Facilitator, Engagement Strategist and dynamic water industry Leader. She is known for using her deep, water industry knowledge and facilitation expertise to unpack complex issues, generate team buy-in and co-create collective visions.

Lindsey will work with your team to:

- Bring people from different backgrounds together to identify collaboration challenges
- Create a shared vision of success
- Prioritise actions for achieving your vision
- Forge ahead with confidence.
